ADVERTISING

We would also encourage you to place an ad in the Annual Meeting Program. Even if you are unable to exhibit books this year, you can still reach the program participants through this medium. We also have the options of sending us inserts to be placed in the meeting bags and/or our membership mailing labels. Please note that the deadline to have the inserts sent to our office is a hard deadline. We need to do this to allow time to get them in the bags. The reservation form details the fees and deadlines for program advertisements. The printed program is distributed to all those who register for the meetings.

The Society's objective is to bring together a multi-disciplinary forum fostering criminological study, research and education.

To facilitate the objective, the Society also publishes these items on a regular basis:

THE CRIMINOLOGIST -- This is the official newsletter of the Society. It is published and distributed to all Society members six times a year. It contains information about the Society, news events and covers matters of interest associated with the study and practice of criminology.

CRIMINOLOGY AND CRIMINOLOGY & PUBLIC POLICY – These are two peer-reviewed official journals published and distributed to all Society members on a quarterly basis. While each journal seeks to publish state-of-the-art research on important substantive issues, their individual publication focus differs. Please see the ASC website under publications for a more detailed description of each.

We would like to invite you to advertise in one or more of these publications. Please see the Advertising Rate Sheet.

The Annual Meeting of The American Society of Criminology provides you with an exciting opportunity to contact the individuals who are at the cutting edge of criminology and criminal justice. We expect the meeting to be a huge success and invite you to join with us.

Thank you for your support of The American Society of Criminology.
