

Organizational Unit Overview:

The Department of Criminal Justice offers a MS degree, graduate certificate, BS degree, and two minors-criminal justice and forensic science. Current faculty consists of nine tenure-track and four full-time instructors. The Department has the third largest number of majors in the Thomas Harriot College of Arts and Sciences and provides students with a comprehensive educational experience including exemplary academics and numerous extra-curricular opportunities. More information can be found at <http://www.ecu.edu/cs-cas/just/>. East Carolina University is a constituent institution in the University of North Carolina system and Carnegie Doctoral-Research university with nearly 30,000 students. The university is the intellectual, cultural, and health care hub of Eastern North Carolina located between the state capital Raleigh and the Atlantic Ocean Outer Banks region.

Job duties:

The Department of Criminal Justice invites applications for two 9-month tenure-track Assistant Professor positions to begin August 12, 2019. We seek highly motivated and collegial individuals with a potential for or demonstrated record of scholarly research and publication, pursuit of external grants at the state and national level, effective teaching at the undergraduate and graduate levels, and service to the university, community, and profession.

Minimum Qualifications:

A PhD in Criminal Justice, Criminology, or a closely related field, such as Justice Administration is required, however, ABD candidates may be considered. Candidates with Ph.D. conferred at the time of initial appointment will hold the probationary rank of Assistant Professor. ABD candidates will also be initially appointed with the probationary term rank of Assistant Professor and must have the terminal degree conferred prior to first reappointment. A JD (law degree) is not considered a terminal degree for this position. Qualifying degrees must be received from appropriately accredited institutions.

Preferred Education and Experience:

All areas of specialization will be considered, however, preference will be given to candidates with a specialization in law enforcement, crime mapping, or courts and judicial process.

Special Instructions to Applicants:

Candidates should submit an online candidate profile, cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research interests, evidence of teaching experience/philosophy and contact information for three current references at www.jobs.ecu.edu. Review of applications will begin November 26, 2018 and continue until the positions are filled.

Additionally, arrange for three original letters of reference to be sent to:

Jenna Smith
East Carolina University
Department of Criminal Justice
245 Rivers Building
Mailstop 155
Greenville, NC 27858-4353

Additional questions can be sent to Dr. Mark Jones, Professor and Search Committee Chair, jonesg@ecu.edu. Official transcripts required upon employment.

East Carolina University is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to their race/ethnicity, color, genetic information, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, disability, political affiliation, or veteran status. Individuals requesting accommodation under the Americans with Disabilities Act Amendments Act (ADAAA) should contact the Department of Disability Support Services at (252) 737-1016 (Voice/TTY). Proper documentation of identity and employability is required at the time of employment.