

Associate Professor / Senior Lecturer / Lecturer, Criminology and Criminal Justice

Job ID: 110446

About Griffith University

At Griffith University we believe in, strive for and celebrate the remarkable.

We are known for our high impact research, outstanding student experience, our commitment to social justice and our welcoming environment. We rank in the top 2% of universities worldwide and we're proud of our remarkable achievements, of our people and their passion for making a positive difference. Together we contribute to the development of knowledge and learning in an attractive environment which values excellence, equity, diversity, and innovation.

The School of Criminology and Criminal Justice at Griffith University is recognised as a leading criminology school in Australia. First established in 1991, the School has grown to include over 50 academic staff, making it the largest criminology school in the country.

At Griffith, criminology is a multidisciplinary field of study, drawing upon psychology, sociology, law, social work, criminology and criminal justice, history, and political science. Our undergraduate criminology and criminal justice degree is the only one in Queensland backed by 'well above world standard' research. That knowledge feeds into the most up-to-date study content, giving you the best skills for an employment edge.

The opportunity

As the successful candidate, you will commence on a Teaching and Research profile. Under this profile, you will undertake teaching and research, as well, as contribute to the Schools' teaching and research outcomes and engagement activities. The role may include assisting in the management of the School's Social Analytics Lab.

This is a continuing, full time position based at the Mt Gravatt campus.

About you

As the successful candidate, you will have a PhD in a relevant discipline with demonstrated experience in teaching at tertiary level and an ability to publish high quality research. For candidates wishing to apply for the higher grades, you will be required to have a history of attracting research grant funding combined with the ability to lead and mentor junior staff in learning and teaching and/or research.

Salary range

Associate Professor, Level D: $136,454 - $150,331 per annum. Salary packing including 17% superannuation: $159,652 - $175,888 per annum.

Senior Lecturer, Level C: $113,326 - $130,675 per annum. Salary packing including 17% superannuation: $132,593 - $152,891 per annum.

Lecturer, Level B: $92,511 - $109,860 per annum. Salary packing including 17% superannuation: $108,239 - $128,537 per annum.

How to apply

Please submit your application online and ensure your application includes the following:

- Statement addressing each of the selection criteria in the position information pack
- Please address the selection criteria for the level for which you are applying.
- One page covering letter outlining your suitability for the role
- Current curriculum vitae/resume which should include:
 - Full name, address, telephone number and email address;
 - Details of education, professional training and qualifications;
 - Employment history, including present position and details of relevant professional, consulting or industry experience;
 - Research interests and list of publications;
 - Research grants awarded and any other relevant information, such as offices held in professional bodies, community services etc.

Obtain the position information pack by clicking on the Apply button. You will be redirected to the Griffith University job search page where you will be able to access the position information pack.

What we offer

Working for one of the most influential universities in Australia and the Asia–Pacific region, you will join a University that spans six campuses in South East Queensland and all disciplines, while our network of more than 200,000 graduates extends around the world.

At Griffith, we've worked hard to create a culture that will challenge you to be curious, creative and courageous. We also support the professional and personal development of all our employees and invest in the skills of our people.

Griffith University values diversity, inclusion and flexibility and we encourage Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander, and people of all backgrounds to apply. Griffith's strategic goals are to also increase the proportion of women in senior academic and administrative roles and in Science, Technology, Engineering, Mathematics and Medicine (STEMM).

Further information

For further information about this role, please contact Associate Professor Michael Townsley, Head, School of Criminology and Criminal Justice on +61 (0) 7 373 51025.

For application queries, please contact Ms Corinna Gartrell, HR Officer on +61 (0) 7 373 56548.

Closing date: Friday, 30 November 2018 at 5pm AEST. All applications must be submitted online.

As the team experience high volumes of applications, we appreciate your patience to allow for a timely and fair process for all.

Please note: We do not accept unsolicited CV's from Recruitment agencies / third parties and we will not be liable or responsible for any fees or costs associated with unsolicited CV's sent directly to Line Managers.

