

Instructor
Department of Sociology & Political Science
Tennessee Tech University

TENNESSEE TECH UNIVERSITY invites applicants for a full-time, nine month, non-tenure-track temporary Instructor position in Criminology and Criminal Justice to begin August 1, 2018. A minimum of a master's degree from an accredited institution in Criminology, Criminal Justice, or Sociology and college-level teaching experience. Ability to teach Introduction to Law Enforcement, Social Deviance, and Crime & Media and willingness to teach courses both online and on campus are required. Please visit our home page at <https://www.tntech.edu/cas/sociology/> for information about the department. All applicants must apply online and will be required to upload: a cover letter addressing the qualifications and essential functions required for the position; curriculum vitae; teaching philosophy; copies of all transcripts (official transcripts for all degrees conferred required upon hire); and email addresses and phone numbers for three professional references. Submission of materials is solely the applicant's responsibility. Applications without all required materials are incomplete and will not be considered. Questions may be directed to Dr. Travis Milburn at tmilburn@tntech.edu. Complete position summary and application procedure are available at <https://jobs.tntech.edu>. The initial review of applications will begin July 8, 2018 and the position is open until filled. Tennessee Tech University is an AA/EEO employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, ethnic or national origin, sex, disability, age (40 and over), status as a protected veteran, genetic information or any other category protected by federal or state law. Inquiries regarding the nondiscrimination policies should be directed to equity@tntech.edu.