

Assistant Professor of Criminal Justice

The Department of Criminal Justice at the University of Wisconsin Oshkosh invites applications for a tenure-track position (at the Assistant Professor level) for September 2018 from individuals with a particular interest in teaching courses in the following areas: criminological theory, corrections, and/or policing. Ability to teach courses involving historically marginalized members of society as it relates to the Criminal Justice system desirable. Ph.D. in criminal justice or closely related field required (candidates who are ABD but are close to finishing their degree will be considered). The successful candidate will demonstrate excellent undergraduate teaching and advising skills, an active research program, and service.

Applicants must apply through the following link: <http://careers.hr.uwosh.edu/cw/en-us/job/495960/assistant-professor-of-criminal-justice>

TO ENSURE CONSIDERATION: Applications received by January 5, 2018 are ensured full consideration. Applications received after that date may be given consideration at the discretion of the search committee. Application materials will be evaluated and the most qualified applicants will be invited to participate in the next step of the selection process. Incomplete and/or late application materials may not receive consideration.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY AND AFFIRMATIVE ACTION EMPLOYER
