

Assistant Professor, Tenure-Track, Criminal Justice Law

About Westfield State University:

Westfield State University is a public, teaching centered, liberal arts school ideally located in Western Massachusetts approximately 90 miles from Boston, two hours to New York City, and 30 minutes from the Northampton, Amherst, and Springfield Metro area. With an undergraduate and graduate student population of 6200 students, the institution is ranked #32 in the US News and World Report, Top Public Universities - North, and has one of the highest six-year graduation rates among Massachusetts universities. Westfield State was founded in 1839 by Horace Mann as the first public co-educational college in America without barrier to race, gender, or economic class. A Chronicle of Higher Education, "Great Colleges to Work For," 2011 designee, Westfield State is dedicated to and continues to live its tradition of providing educational, working and living environments that value the diverse backgrounds of all people including minorities, women, veterans, individuals with disabilities and other protected persons, or individuals with diverse cultural backgrounds.

The Department of Criminal Justice at Westfield State University is the first such program in Massachusetts and is considered a premier program in the Commonwealth with more than 6500 alumni. The program is also highly recognized in the Northeast region. The University's degree programs in Criminal Justice have 800 undergraduates and 75 master's students (MS).

Job Description:

State Job Title: Assistant Professor

Department: Criminal Justice

Job Code: HA3200

FLSA Status: Exempt

Funding: Special Trust Fund (7115-6014)

Bargaining Unit: MSCA

Job Type: Full-time, Tenure-track

Salary: Commensurate with experience and qualifications

The Department of Criminal Justice invites applications for a tenure-track position, at the Assistant Professor level beginning in the Fall 2019 semester. We seek qualified candidates in Law who are committed to excellence in teaching. Preference will be given to candidates who can teach courses in legal issues related to cybercrime and/or technology issues related to search and seizure.

The standard teaching load is 12 credit hours per semester and there are opportunities to teach in the department's evening and on-line undergraduate and graduate programs. Faculty responsibilities include advising students, service to the university, College of Education, Health, and Human Services, the department, and the community, and an active research agenda. Candidates with an interest in cybercrime and/or technology issues related to search and seizure will be expected to develop courses and assist with program development in this area.

Requirements:

A Ph.D. in criminal justice, criminology or a related discipline is required; ABD may be considered; JD alone will not be considered.

Additional Information:

Disability Accommodations:

Westfield State University understands that persons with disabilities may need assistance with the job application process and/or with the interview process. For confidential assistance regarding disability accommodations, please contact the Office of Human Resources at (413) 572-8106.

Background Check:

Employment at Westfield State University is contingent upon a background check that is satisfactory to the University. Failure to provide written authorization for a background check will nullify the offer of employment.

Application Instructions:

An online application is required. A complete application includes:

- Letter of interest*
- Curriculum vita
- List of courses the candidate is qualified to teach
- Names and contact information of three references

*In your letter of interest please include the ways in which you would advance diversity and inclusion in your classroom and at the university.

Contact information for three reference letter providers should be completed on the Reference form. Applicants that are using Interfolio for an existing confidential letter of recommendation should provide the Interfolio based email address (e.g. <mailto:ref1@interfolio.com>).

Deadline Information: Review of applications begins 12/12/2018. The job posting will remain open until finalists have been selected.

NOTE: If you need assistance completing your application please contact our online <http://westfield.interviewexchange.com/iecreatemodifyticket.jsp>. The link to the help desk can be found at the top of the page via Contact Us.

Westfield State University provides equal access to employment opportunities for all applicants, regardless of race, color, creed, religion, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, genetic information, marital status, age, disability or veteran status in compliance with all applicable laws, regulations and policies.

To apply, visit <http://aptrkr.com/1357875>

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/jeid-97f295c26572a442a893281d60bc67ca>